

Child Development Training Consortium

www.childdevelopment.org

Child Development Permit Stipend Program

The CDTC Child Development Permit Stipend Program pays the permit application fee to the Commission on Teacher Credentialing for persons seeking the Child Development Permit and offers reimbursement for the Live Scan fingerprint fee.

Two Options to Cover the Permit Application Fee:

Applicants can submit their permit application and permit fee directly to the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing \(CTC\) and receive reimbursement from The Child Development Training Consortium \(CDTC\) for the application fee.

Applicants can submit their permit application through The Child Development Training Consortium \(CDTC\). CDTC will review and forward the application to CTC along with the required application fee on their behalf.

Reimbursement for Live Scan Fingerprint Fees

First time permit applicants may request reimbursement for Live Scan fingerprint fees.

Permit Levels Funded

First Time Permit Applicants: All levels (Assistant, Associate Teacher, Teacher, Master Teacher, Site Supervisor and Program Director)

Renewal Applicants: All levels (Valid and expired permits are eligible to submit for renewal)

Upgrade Applicants: All levels (Valid and expired permits are eligible to submit for upgrade)

Child Development Permit stipend information is on the CDTC website at www.childdevelopment.org.

To receive reimbursement for your CTC application fee or to apply through CDTC and have CDTC submit your application and application fee, select "APPLY FOR CHILD DEVELOPMENT PERMIT STIPEND" on the home page for instructions.

Funding is limited, based on availability.

For assistance, email CDTC-Permit@yosemite.edu